Juvenile Diversion Alternative Program (JDAP)

JDAP is a diversion program that provides services based on individual youth and family needs. Generally, youth referred by the Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) and/or approved by the State Attorney's Office (SAO) are eligible for participation in the JDAP program. The targeted age group to be served is 17 and under, male and female.

JDAP concentrates on determining the needs of the youth admitted into the program, addressing those needs, then ultimately encouraging the youth to successfully complete the program while aiming to minimize their risk of becoming repeat offenders. JDAP strives to influence youth to remain crime free during their participation in the program and thereafter.

Admission Criteria (included but not limited to)

- Any misdemeanor offender
- Misdemeanor offenders with a prior adjudication
- Second time misdemeanor offenders with a prior adjudication
- Violent first-degree misdemeanors offenders
- First time felony offenders (of the third degree)

Service Provided (based on individual need)

- ❖ Scheduling, supervision and monitoring of compliance with court-ordered sanctions including community service, curfew and restitution
- ❖ Random urinalysis monitoring for youth who are assessed as being at risk or having a history of substance abuse
- ❖ Provision of individual, group and family counseling which address the youth's individualized needs and risks
- ❖ Anger management education
- ❖ Educational training
- ❖ Vocation services to age-appropriate youth
- ❖ Substance abuse prevention and treatment
- ❖ Mental Health services as needed

Each program youth is assigned a BAYS JDAP case manager who provides supervision which includes: monthly face-to-face contact, individualized case planning, clear corrective action steps and outside referrals for services.

Additionally, case management services include: coordination of community service hours, assessment of individual youth and family needs and transportation assistance for youth (when necessary and appropriate) to services, treatment appointments, and program sponsored activities that are addressed in the youth's supervision plan, with input from the youth and family.

Duration of Program

The standard length of time for youth participation in the program shall be two to four months.

For youth with no moderate-high or high risk domains, case planning is focused on a 60 Day schedule for completion of the program.

For youth with on or more moderate-high or high risk domains, case planning is focused on a 90-120 day schedule for completion of the program that addresses identified needs.

Release from Program

Successful completion of the program occurs when the youth has successfully met each service and sanction requirement detailed in the case plan.

Unsuccessful completion of the program occurs when the youth has failed to comply with the service and sanction requirements detailed in the case plan after a period not to exceed four months, unless an extension has been granted. Prior to making a final determination that a case plan is reviewed with the youth and family.
